

Sunshine Moments before sunrise:

Early Morning Skiing with ski legend Franz Klammer

"Ski before 9 am" is the motto for snow-hungry early risers in Bad Kleinkirchheim. Olympic champion Franz Klammer accompanies fans of the winter sport for an entire morning on the Bad Kleinkirchheim slopes.

Franz Klammer and his slope

In an exclusive, small group, experienced skiers get to know the World Cup slope "Carinthia – Franz Klammer" from sunrise until approximately 9:30 am. The former ski racer is of course on hand with insider tips and tricks for the perfect carving turn. Together you explore the slope and are treated to exciting anecdotes from "The Kaiser".

Franz Klammer and his huts

After a good two hours of skiing, it's time to practice stopping at a mountain hut. A tasty brunch is waiting in the Klammerstüb'n at Bergrestaurant Kaiserburg with regional delicacies from the Alpine-Adriatic region. The most delicious way to end the morning.

Franz Klammer up close

Franz Klammer awaits his guests before sunrise at the Kaiserburg Valley Station on four dates. After a warming coffee you head up to the World Cup slope. Timely booking is advisable, as the number of participants is limited.
